

SHIPE-HUNTING NEW PASTIME FOR CO-EDS

Miss Leota Crider, Freshman From Kansas City, Held Sack Well, but Vainly.

IT WAS A LONESOME JOB

"Heard 'em All Around Her" But Couldn't See Them—Moon too Bright.

"What is a shipe hunt, anyway?" asked Miss Leota Crider, of Kansas City, a freshman, one afternoon last week. Although a crowd of boys and girls took her on one Monday night, she is not yet sure that she knows.

Over and across hills, hollows, stiles and barbed wire fences the party went until they reached "just the ideal spot." Then they lighted a candle and placed it in front of a sack propped open with sticks, which Miss Crider was left to safeguard while they went to "shoo" the shipes into the sack.

She Held the Sack.

"Here it comes," "There it goes," "Watch that sack!" were the cries that broke the stillness of the night. Even these cries became fainter and fainter until there was no sound at all.

Soon Miss Crider, the lonesome guard, called out in choked tones: "Girls, boys, where are you all? I don't want to stay here all by myself. Why don't you come on? I can hear those things all around me, but I can't see them. Do they look anything like quails?"

"Those things" she heard were rocks which the crowd had thrown near her. "Isn't it a good night?" she asked in trembling voice as the "hunters" finally approached.

"Didn't any come into the sack?" they asked.

"No," was the reply.

Moon Blinded Them.

"The bright light of the moon must have blinded them, and so much rain has made the ground dry," the party explained.

That was not a satisfactory answer for the victim, but she doesn't care to try shipe hunting again, she says.

Miss Crider is a daughter of F. P. Crider, a Kansas City live stock commission merchant. She has gone to Kansas City on a visit, having left without knowing she was the victim of a joke.

A shipe hunt is probably one of the oldest known forms of hazing. The innocent person is taken to a lonely spot and given a large sack. He or she is told to hold a lighted candle at the mouth of the sack while the rest of the party go out and drive the shipes into the sack, which is propped open with sticks, the inference being that shipes are attracted by a light and will walk into the sack. After all arrangements are made the party leave the subject of the joke "holding the sack," while they either depart for their homes or retire to a safe distance and await developments.

MISTAKE IN FRESHMAN SLATE

"Straight Anti-Frat Ticket" is Found to Contain Fraternity Man.

The "Straight Anti-Frat" ticket elected by the freshmen of the College of Arts and Science at a meeting in Academic Hall this morning was not altogether an anti-frat ticket. As vice-president the freshmen elected W. T. Morrow, of Carthage, Mo., a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. They didn't discover their mistake until too late.

For the first time in the history of university class politics, a printed "slate" was circulated. This was headed, "Straight Anti-Frat Ticket." The slate, to a man, went through with a rush.

The other officers elected are: President, Frank P. Myers, of Nevada; secretary, Donald D. Allison, Kansas City; treasurer, H. R. Douglass, Kansas City; sergeant-at-arms, Irvin Benson, of Fredericktown, the last named being the winner of the class rush.

W. T. Morrow explained his election in this way: "A committee came to me about a week ago and asked me to run for the vice-presidency. Nothing was said in regard to fraternities and I consented. When the printed 'slate' was passed around this morning, I told them I was a 'frat' man. They were somewhat surprised, but said to let it go."

TWO MORE CARRIERS NEEDED

Extra Men Could be Used in Distributing Mail in Columbia.

"The post office department of Columbia is making an effort to obtain two more city carriers," said E. A. Remley, Jr., assistant post-master, this morning. "We can use one of them in the north and east part of the city. The other one could be placed south of Broadway where the student service is very heavy."

THAT M. U. VICTORY

Dean Mumford's Comments on School of Agriculture's Achievement.

"The winning of the trophy cup by the stock-judging team in Kansas City is the greatest event in the history of the College of Agriculture," said F. B. Mumford, the dean, this morning. "The students in the other departments of the university scarcely realize its importance. For three years we have worked for this prize in competition with Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska, three of the strongest states, in this line, in America. The winning of the prize will be regarded by the live stock men of Missouri as the most important achievement of the year for the agricultural school."

The men composing the stock-judging team for the University of Missouri were C. M. McWilliams of Knox County, John E. Ryland of Kansas City, B. P. Smoot of Boone County, H. A. Hackedorn of Galion, O., and L. A. Weaver of Henry County. Of these men four won individual cash prizes; McWilliams, first; Ryland, second; Weaver, fifth; and Hackedorn, seventh. The stock judged was as follows: Horses: Percheron, Shire, German coach; cattle: Hereford, Short Horn, Galloway, Angus; sheep: Oxford, Cotswold, Hampshire, Shropshire, Southdown; swine: Berkshire, Duroc Jersey, Chester White; mules: old mules were chosen in most cases, although a few 2-year-olds were used.

The superintendent of the contest was W. L. Nelson, assistant secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

The trophy cup won by the Missouri team will be placed in the main corridor of the Agricultural Building. It is to be kept in a large case together with the other trophies won by the College of Agriculture.

IN THE "PREP" SCHOOL, 446.

School of Education Has Sixty Members in Teaching Force.

The enrollment at the School of Education high school has reached a total of 446. There are sixty members in the teaching force. Of these, fifty-two are connected with the University, either as teachers or students in the School of Education.

The steam heating apparatus of the high school has been placed in working order. It was the delay in fixing this that caused a postponement of school one day last week.

On the "Hum"—Not the "Bum."

To the Editor of the University Missourian: In my letter to you of October 5, printed in the October 8 issue of the University Missourian, I stated that North Missouri was on the hum. As it is printed in the Missourian, it reads, "North Missouri is on the bum." North Missouri is indeed "humming," and Unionville is doing her share. We have a progressive Business Men's Club of a hundred members, with Mr. Bonfoey as president. Therefore, you may know that there is nothing on the "bum" in this section.

Respectfully yours,

C. W. MULLENIX.

ONLY ELEVEN MEN AT TRAINING TABLE

Marvin Doyle, Candidate For Tackle, Was Taken Off Last Night.

TIGERS DO BETTER WORK

Ends Made Good Showing in Practice Yesterday—Bradley Does Well.

Marvin Doyle, a candidate for left tackle on the Varsity football team, was taken off the training table last night. There are only eleven men eating at the table now. They are: Ristine, Hall, Clair, Hackney, Pixlee, Deatherage, Idler, Johnson, Alexander, W. Roberts and Gove.

After the usual signal practice and other light work last night, the Tigers scrimmaged with the freshmen 45 minutes. The Varsity had no trouble in making gains. Long gains around the ends were made almost at will. The Tigers' line held much better than the night before. After several attempts the freshmen succeeded in putting the ball over the goal from the 25-yard line.

About 20 minutes was spent in punting by both sides. This was done to train the men to get down the field on the kicks and to coach them on blocking. Bradley showed up well in returning punts for the Varsity.

MAY STAY A WEEK IN IOWA.

Plan is Proposed to Save Tigers Hardships of Travel.

The Athletic Committee is considering the advisability of keeping the football team in Iowa during the week after the Ames game, which will be played at Ames, Iowa, October 23. This would save the extra travel which would be necessary if the team should return to Columbia, and then go to Iowa City, Iowa, where the next game is to be played.

If the team is allowed to stay, the members will be required to keep regular study hours and practice regularly. Nothing definite regarding the plan has been decided.

JAYHAWKERS OVERCONFIDENT.

Former Captain Says Defeat Would Help Them.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 14.—"I am not at all satisfied with the playing of my team in the Oklahoma game on Saturday," said Coach Kennedy yesterday. "I will start the game against Manhattan next Saturday with several shifts in the line. If we expect to take the big games of the schedule our line must be vastly improved."

The dopesters at Lawrence were surprised at the result of the Manhattan-Missouri game. The Aggie team was known to be strong, but the contest it put up in Columbia was not expected. Coach Kennedy is worried about the game next Saturday.

"The Kansas team is over confident," former Captain Donald said today. "The men refuse to get down and play the game, for they feel that victory for them is a matter of course. The best thing that could happen to our team would be a good drubbing at the hands of Manhattan. Then you would see some playing in the other games on the schedule. Of course I do not want Manhattan to defeat us, but a defeat would take the over confidence out of the men, and that would be a good thing."

Frank Burruss' Condition Unchanged.

The condition of Frank Burruss, who is ill with pneumonia in the Parker Memorial Hospital, is reported unchanged today. Mr. Burruss has been in the hospital five days. His right lung is affected, but Dr. Woodson Moss said this morning that unless his left becomes affected, his condition would continue to be favorable.

TALBOT BARRED FROM CORNELL

Kansas City Athlete Who Made Record Here Has Condition.

Lee J. Talbot, of Kansas City, who made a record in the weight events here on High School Day, 1896, has been refused permission to re-enter Cornell. A dispatch says he failed to pass in one subject in which he was conditioned in his freshman year.

Talbot left three records at the inter-scholastic meet here. They are: Hammer, 168 feet 5 inches; discus, 113 feet 8 inches; shot put, 46 feet 6½ inches.

U. OF M. PUBLISHES RULES FOR STUDENTS

A Penalty Will Be Imposed for "Cutting" Before or After Holidays.

DEANS MUST APPROVE

"Stunt Days" Will Not Be Allowed Unless Permission Is Given.

The University of Missouri purposes to end the practice of students leaving school before holidays. A recent rule just published by the university and circulated among the students provides a penalty from one to six hours to be deducted from the student's credit if he or she leaves the university on either of the two days preceding or the two days following holidays.

This is the first time that the university has circulated rules for the guidance of students among the student body. The rules cover all student activities.

One rule pertains to department holidays or "stunts." Before any can be given the permission of the dean must be obtained. The rule states: "Any student who absents himself on a day which, without being an authorized holiday, has been declared a holiday by any group of students, shall be reported by the teacher to the dean." The penalty in this case is the same as leaving the university before holidays. This rule is not intended to abolish "stunts." They will be permitted as before, but the permission of the dean must first be obtained.

One rule covers the organization of societies and clubs among the students. Each society is required to file with the registrar of the university at the beginning of each session the names and addresses of its officers. This refers to fraternities, as well as other student organizations.

ANOTHER "SMALLEST STUDENT."

Frank R. Eversole Takes the Palm From Lyndon B. Phifer.

Lyndon B. Phifer, the sophomore journalist, who last year had the reputation of being the smallest student in the University, can no longer claim that honor. Frank Rutledge Eversole, a freshman in the College of Arts and Science, is even smaller than Phifer. Last fall Phifer, as 16 years old, weighed 105 pounds and was 5 feet, 2 inches tall. Today Eversole is 16 years old, weighs 93 pounds, and is 5 feet, 1¾ inches tall.

Eversole lives at 1302 Kaiser avenue in this city. He was graduated last year from the Columbia High School. He is taking gymnasium work this year; is a good tennis player, and is interested in all kinds of athletics.

NEW SONGS FOR UNIVERSITY.

To Be Sung at the Mass Meeting Tomorrow Night.

Two new songs for the University of Missouri, one composed by Dr. W. G. Bek and the other by Prof. B. F. Hoffman, will be sung at the mass meeting in the university auditorium tomorrow night. "Mid the Hills of Old Missouri" has also been set to band music, and will be played before a university audience for the first time by the Cadet band tomorrow night. A speech will be made by Dr. Bek. The meeting will be held at 7:15 o'clock.

GOODMAN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Russian Student Who Learned English in Three Months Has Fever.

Alexander Goodman, a Russian, was taken to the Parker Memorial Hospital last night suffering with fever. Dr. Woodson Moss said he did not consider his condition alarming. Mr. Goodman is a student in the College of Arts and Science. He came from Wolynien, Russia, a year and one-half ago. He speaks six languages. He learned the English language from a correspondence school in three months.

GILCHRIST, FORMER TIGER, NOW AT ROLLA

K. P. Gilchrist.

ROLLA A PART OF UNIVERSITY

Dr. A. Ross Hill Urges Students To Treat Them as Such at Game.

"We must remember that the students at Rolla are part of the University of Missouri," said Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri, at assembly this morning. "We ought to give them a kind reception at the game next Saturday."

"The students at the School of Mines are very sensitive about being spoken of as belonging to a separate school. I am sorry that the game is scheduled as the University of Missouri against Rolla."

President Hill also spoke regarding the various meetings called by students at the assembly hour.

"The assembly hour was left open by the Board of Curators so the students might gather in the auditorium. I have not given my consent to any meetings at this hour. If the majority of the students wish the assembly to be discontinued, I have no doubt that it will be abolished. If it is abolished, however, it will not be an open hour, but will be used for recitations."

STILL THE HAZING GOES ON.

Freshmen Had to Submit to a Medical Examination Last Night.

Fake medical examination of several freshmen was conducted by two medical students and two students in the department of animal husbandry at Benton Hall last night.

The unsuspecting freshmen were marched into a room where a careful diagnosis of the case was made. They were made to lie on a table while the students conducting the examination sounded their lungs, listened for tremors of the heart, examined bacilli from their blood and gave an ink cure for the lumbar region of their back. Some of the freshmen had trouble with their internal organs and relief in the form of harmless pills and lotions was given. The patient's history, his past sickness, and his present trouble were taken down by the examiners, who will keep it for future reference.

Those men who were hazed were L. C. Cond, who had had measles, mumps, pneumonia, and at present has malaria; J. S. Matthews, chicken pox two years ago, otherwise in good condition; E. E. Armstrong, taking gymnasium; A. P. Pulkins, rapid and infrequent pulse; Y. A. Kobel, in good condition and taking military; J. L. Bradley, whooping cough and appendicitis; D. E. Armstrong, awaiting treatment.

FORBIDS MEETING OF GIRLS.

Dr. A. Ross Hill Refuses Women Privilege for Assembly Hour.

The university women gathered for their first mass meeting this morning. When the chairman, Miss Mary Leitch, started to call the meeting to order she was told that Dr. A. Ross Hill, president, had come to the women's bulletin board and taken the sign down. He ordered the assistant matron to close the doors of the women's parlors so that the girls could not have a mass meeting. It interfered with the assembly, he said.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY OF LIQUOR MEN

J. A. Stewart Says Movement Is Under Way to Discredit Local Option.

FINES ARE TOO SMALL

Asserts Jail Sentences Are Needed to Stop Illegal Whisky Sales.

"While much whisky is sold illegally by some drug stores of Columbia, I do not think that nearly so much is sold now as when the saloons were open, three years ago," said Judge J. A. Stewart today. It was Judge Stewart who brought the complaint against Dr. Charles Hume which resulted in the revocation of Hume's license for prescribing whisky illegally.

"I believe there is an organized movement among the liquor men to bring local option into disrepute by making as many men drunk as possible," continued Judge Stewart. "Then there is always the man who is after the money, whether it can be obtained honorably or not."

Too Many Small Fines.

"Twenty good men working together can put a stop to much of this illegal sale of liquor. One trouble is that there are too many minimum fines. When a man is caught he should not be dismissed with less than a year's sentence in jail. Jail sentence will always have the desired effect. It would be better to have fifty cases go to trial and have forty-nine of them acquitted and one get a year in jail than to have all pay a minimum fine."

"Officers never should promise the violator of the local option law clemency for a plea of guilty. I do not believe they should be so afraid to get into court. What does it matter if they lose a few cases, if they get a man in jail for a year. That will put a stop to him for a while, at least."

Concerted Action Needed.

"There should be some concerted action here for law enforcement. Men must not be weak-hearted if they hope to put a stop to this open violation of the law when it is a disgrace to the decent people of the community. A $300 fine can be made back in the sales of a few Saturdays by a whisky joint. Nothing but jail sentences will do the work. Officers should not show favoritism."

"While before the State Board of Health this week, its members assured me they were willing to do their part in punishing the whisky doctors when the charges are brought in the proper form."

A. G. NEWMAN LOSES MUSTACHE

Fire Chief Was Not Singed, But Had Accident With Scissors.

A. G. Newman, chief of the fire department, found time between fires in Columbia the other day to trim his mustache. For many years Mr. Newman has taken pride in his long white mustache, and has kept it trimmed in the latest style. He was chagrined when the shears slipped and cut off too much on one side of his mustache. He was trimming it as best he could when his attention was distracted by one of his favorite dogs. Instead of stopping his cutting, the scissors gave one big whack that disfigured the beard of his upper lip.

Grieved as Chief Newman was, there was nothing then to do but get a clean shave and wait until nature can cover his upper lip with another coat of hair.

TWO SOPHOMORES EXPELLED.

Four Others Sought at Michigan U. for Hazing.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 14.—Roscoe Rose, of Big Rapids, Mich., and Edward Kelley, of Mount Morris, N. Y., two sophomores of the literary department, have been expelled from the University of Michigan for hazing first-year men, despite the warning of the faculty. Four others are being sought. For the last two years hazing at Michigan has been increasing. President Hutchins said today:

"We shall continue to expel those who willfully disobey the few rules we have thought best to lay down."

COLUMBIA LIGHT SERVICE BAD

Students Get Lessons by Oil Lamps, a Reader Complains.

To the Editor of the University Missourian: Can the University Missourian tell us why the city is furnishing electricity such miserable electric light service? Last night the electric light globes gave out only a dull, red glow. Many students had to study by lamps. This has happened many times recently. Is it the fault of municipal ownership, bad management, or what?
